

JUNGHANS – The Company

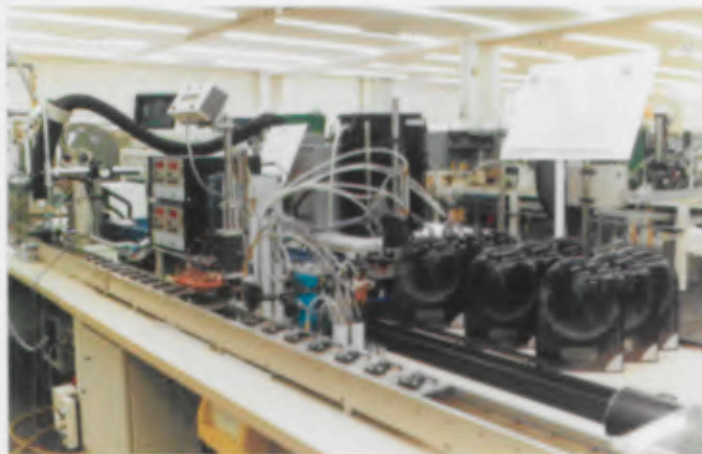

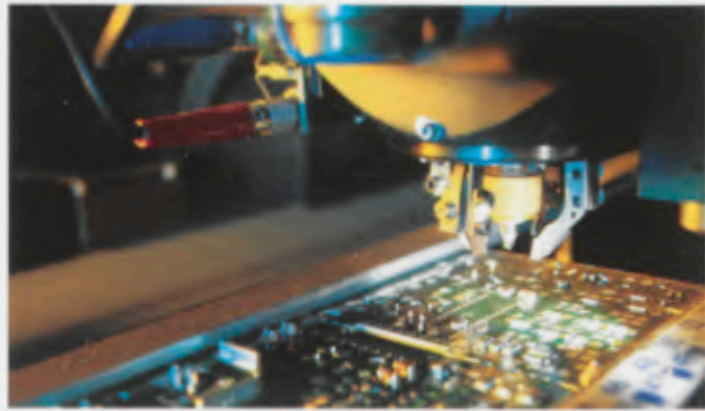

A road map indicates where Schramberg can be found. Even so, if there were such a thing as a «Clock Atlas», this town in the district of Rottweil would certainly be marked with a dot, for JUNGHANS UHREN GmbH, the third largest quartz clock manufacturer in the world. A company with tradition and plenty of new ideas.

Over 70.000 clocks and watches movements are produced here everyday, thanks to one of the latest, automated watch and clock production factories. Ultramodern electronic equipment monitors and controls the very high quality standards during all production processes.

JUNGHANS manufactures electronic wrist-watches, alarm clocks, wall and mantel clocks, quartz movements, solar and radio-controlled clocks and watches of the highest quality, precision and functionality that consistently take into account the latest, forward looking technologies. That is why JUNGHANS has the reputation of an innovative watch and clock manufacturer.

The most popular models available on the market today are radio-controlled and solar clocks and watches. The first and only radio-controlled wrist-watch in the world, the JUNGHANS MEGA 1, demonstrates the considerable innovative capacity and the high technical standard of JUNGHANS.

It seems astonishing that it's only 4 years since JUNGHANS presented the first radio-controlled solar clock, the JUNGHANS RCS 1, which demonstrated that these new technologies had created a perspective.

THEME: THE NEW WRIST-WATCHES

The new generation JUNGHANS wrist-watches have something in common: Success.

For example, the innovative technology of radio-controlled and solar watches opens up a new functional dimension for the consumer. The latest, individual design complies with the high ranking that must be expected today from a watch as a decorative or fashionable accessory. And at a high quality level, JUNGHANS wrist-watches offer an unbeatable price-performance ratio. That's why the JUNGHANS wrist-watch is the German watch with the highest sales figures.
